

ICN Room Use

The ICN is a statewide telecommunications network designed primarily to enhance learning opportunities for students, employees, and board members. Use of ICN classrooms must be consistent with the school district mission which is “to develop world-class learners and citizens of character in a safe and inclusive learning community”

The school district recognizes that other authorized community users will frequently be using the ICN facilities in accordance with state and federal law and that they are required to stay within the ICN classroom and use the most direct route to the ICN classroom. Other areas in a school building are off limits to authorized ICN classroom users.

It shall be the responsibility of the entity using the ICN classroom to comply with the requirements of the law and school district policy and its supporting administrative regulations.
